

Petition prologue

Communities at proposed nuclear sites launch a joint statement against Dutton’s “half baked” idea and ask Australians to stand with them to say NO to Nuclear.

Without asking regional communities, Peter Dutton has arrogantly announced that we will house nuclear reactors in our regions across Australia.

- Nationals Leader David Littleproud said “the proposed nuclear plants would not live or die on the consent of host communities”. “We will consult the communities but we will build them anyway”. This means regional communities will have no right to veto.

Regional communities at the proposed reactor sites are calling on the nation to stand with them and say no nuclear for Australia. Will you sign the petition?

Petition:

To Peter Dutton and all members of the Coalition,

We stand with the seven communities you say should house nuclear facilities.

You never asked if regions across Australia wanted nuclear reactors.

Your talk about compulsory acquisition and federal overrides shows that our opinions don’t matter to you.

But our regions, voices and views do matter.

We want to keep the lights on and the sirens off, our food and families safe.

Nuclear reactors are not a viable option in our regions or anywhere in Australia. The facts are clear.

We need secure jobs and affordable, proven renewable energy now. Not vague dreams of nuclear power or to wait decades for the energy transition.

When it comes to growing regional jobs, and supporting regional communities we simply do not have time to waste.

As Australians, we support the regions across Australia and say “NO TO NUCLEAR REACTORS in Australia.”
